

This block diagram displays the board setup we used while developing our eeprom_programmer Arduino program. This setup allowed us to program the eeprom in "prog" mode and monitor the behavior of the system in "sniff" mode without interfering with the bus.

